BUSINESS NOTES AND TRADE NEWS

Shirtings Do Better-Demand for Topcoats Predicted -Dye Unsettled.

The shirtings market is said to be showing renewed signs of life. Buyers are beginning to place larger orders for goods. In the immediate market there mer wear. Pongee silk is reported as one of the leaders in the call and from present indications appears likely to equal its last year's sales. Prices for finer grades of silk shirtings are $1.50 to $2, most buyers giving preference to the former figure. Prices for pongees vary around $1.

Any prolonged flurry of spring weather is expected to bring rush order business from retailers for topcoats. As many men did not buy new winter coats last fall and many soft finished coats that were bought then are shabby a large number of buyers are expected when seasonal weather starts in. The demand evinced has been for tweeds in lighter shades. Few coats being prepared are featuring more subdued colors.

Dye Market Unsettled.

Entrance of new manufacturers into the dyestuff field, a dye lobby inquiry in Washington and a textile mill strike in New England have upset this week's dye market, Drug and Chemical Markets will say to-day. In efforts to get business many producers have made more cuts in prices. Heavy chemicals are reported as firm at recent advances, while sodium nitrate continues its upward trend, owing to scarcity. Higher exchange rates have stiffened the cost of importing several essential oils.

To Hold Silk Exposition.

A prospectus of the 1923 International Silk Exposition, to be held under the Silk Association of America in the Grand Central Palace on February 5 to 15, inclusive, was issued to the trade yesterday. The exposition will be under the direction of Charles H. Green. The space reserved is larger than that for last year, and it is planned to have motion pictures of processes in silk manufacture.

Gray Goods Quiet.

Little activity was apparent in yesterday's local gray goods market. Prices for staple print cloths were unchanged and firm on the basis of 8 and 9 cents for 38½ inch. 64-60s, and 39 inch, 68-72s, respectively. Little buying characterized sheeting lines, the few sales recorded being confined to heavyweight goods. Specialty lines were without feature. The local burlap market was under little pressure, and buyers apparently were willing to confine their activities to immediate needs. Prices were unchanged. The Calcutta market was, as reported, firm with trading inactive.

Little Activity in Furs.

Activity in furs is greatly curtailed. Manufacturers in general are limiting production to actual needs and are little inclined to start manufacturing little inclined to start manufacturing fall goods and samples. Retailers' stocks are, as reported, moving slowly. Certain manufacturers are complaining of increased underselling of the market by small dealers in odd lot skins. Many retail sales are said to be of that class. Consequently, larger manufacturers often are without a local market.

Colors Can Express Ideas.

That "color is a language to express ideas" was the keynote of yesterday's speech in the luncheon meeting of the Textile Color Card Association of the United States in the Astor Hotel by Frank Alvah Parsons on the interrelation of psychology and dress. Other speakers at the luncheon were John C. Mc-Keon of the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers Association and Harry Bernhard, president of the Retail Millinery Association. Before the luncheon new officers of the association for the current year were elected as follows: Frederick Bode, president; William Hand, first vice-president; Adoph Mulier, treasurer, and Carl Forsch, secretary.

SEEK BANDIT SPENDING $130,000 IN BANK LOOT

Canadian Police Think He Is in Southern California.

United States, presumably in or near Southern California, a one time outlaw band leader is enjoying the fruits of his hard banditry, according to the Cana-dian police authorities. They to-day re-quested United States police officials to seek a man who is spending the proceeds of banknotes and gold stolen in a sensa-tional raid on the New Westminster branch of the Bank of Montreal sixteen parity is extending itself automatically throughout business.

The newspapers say that suitings, coffee, coal, flour, furs and stockings are now above New York prices, and that a meal in an ordinary middle or lower class restaurant costs more than it does there. Good tailors demand from fil to fi5 sterling for a suit or overcoat.

The jump in prices that set in just before the holidays continues. It gravely affected the Christmas trade, and many shops are still stocked with the season's gold.

-and George Did It!

"TET the other fellow educate the public," we have heard some legitimate investment dealers say. "His advertisements will do whatever is needed to make good investing popular, and if he wants to spend the money for the good of us all, let him go ahead. Let George do it."

And George did it! But George, instead of some other legitimate investment dealer, happened to be the proprietor of a bucket shop. George cashed in enormously. True, just now he is in trouble with the District Attorney, but George knows how to keep a part of his gains, and in due time he will be advertising his "investment service" again. Meantime, the legitimate dealer, competitor for the public's favor, has gotten a black eye. The public, starved for years of the financial truths which the legitimate dealer might have fed him, and filled instead with George's questionable concoctions, is disgusted with all "investment" and distrusts everybody.

But the public must invest in something, sooner or later. When buying starts up again, will the investor be offered a diet of sound financial facts-stimulating, strengthening-or will he go back to the bucket shop table d'hôte?

When you select your advertising agency, you should see that it has clean hands in addition to brains, experience and ample facilities. Since its founding, fifty years ago, it has been the policy of this firm to accept no contract from any firm whose record, practices and personnel could not pass the most searching scrutiny.

Our new booklet, "A Frank Statement," explains concisely our methods and qualifications for the handling of advertising accounts, and will interest both financial and general advertisers.

"Yamada san,' I said to my teacher, you Japanese are a very superstitious people, are you not?" To which he repolled that the lower class were certainly guilible enough; he himself decidedly was not. As a test I asked him if having was not. As a test I asked him if having gone to a funeral of a member of his GUSSIE HUMANN TRIAL APRIL 3

1.000.00 home he had taken to the cemetery. He taughed and said while he was free from these ancient ideas he would probably return by another road. Popular belief has it that if you employed the same road going and coming the evil spirits now acquainted with the route would be inclined to lead another relative to the graveyard. We are not superstitious—no, indeed; these ideas will simply persist is the better way to state it," he said.

Guesie Humann will go to trial on April 3 on the indictments found against her by the Queens Grand Jury charging that she was an accessory after the killing of ner former sweetheart, Harry Garbe, at Woodhaven on October 27 last, and also for perjury committed at the trial of Joseph Libasci for the shooting of Garbe. The date was set yesterday by Justice Paber in the Oversity Guesie Humann will go to trial on
